

Did you guys look at the curiosity website yet?

Yes. And I did a search for plastic and found out there's a wax from a caterpillar that eats plastic.

I found an article that has information that says plastic bags are the biggest threat to sea life.

Did you know there's a techno robot called Mr. Trash Wheel that sucks up plastic in the harbor?

Let me see what that looks like.

I love the articles we're finding for digital communication project.

All right, class, can I have your attention? Does anyone have a question about completing the work log?

Wow. I'm having trouble figuring out the main point of my article.

Well, Willis, do you remember how to create an outline with a graphic organizer?

Oh, Mr. T, I'll help our group use Popplet, that graphic organizer you showed us in visual learning. It really helps us organize our ideas.

Oh, thanks. Remember, everyone in your group needs to complete their part in the work log.
